for Development and Membership Engagement

After a fulfilling career in the Armed Forces and education, I want to offer my skills and experience to build grassroots membership, develop the potential of every member and support our community to flourish.

What I offer

- Former Army officer with experience of leadership and service.
- Twenty years' experience working in education and training.
- Developed personal development programmes across a large schools group.
- Supported excluded and neurodivergent students to access learning opportunities.
- Established mentoring and coaching programmes.
- Delivered training for parents, educators and workplace audiences.

My aims

1. Harness the potential of every member through area-wide mentoring and coaching programmes.
2. Increase training and development opportunities.
3. Grow membership, especially amongst students.
